Good day Hemant and your team

I see there's an abrupt an sudden shift at your end on communication blocks and / or interactions with me.

That happens almost a decade down the line and soon after I complement you and your team in writing.

Now you know why I don't give many people my vote of confidence.

The GGSA shareholding offer which up until now, to my knowledge is declined by Hemant, is cancelled at this end.

Keep that money I send you on those adjustments to the CIPC now cancelled.

Fuck your services, and fuck your organization.

None of you are allowed to contact me again, since that is now construed as harassment from your end.

My response is not irrational, you're well aware on the severity of my situation and timing.
