You must keep in mind:

I document and publish a substantial amount of information in the public domain as a track record of people and / or organizations that make demand(s) for my attention (by force), at least over the past ~2 years, mostly backed by nonsense and / or abuse of power.

And in doing so, they (and / or you) perpetuate my scientifically proven health condition and / or complex ptsd trauma(s), by among other reasons, forcing me to interact with people and / or organizations, I have no interest and / or desire to do so with.

And you're on that list.

I stop transmitting information to you after this message, unless I'm directly and / or indirectly forced to do so.
